Why Invest in Solar Energy

The primary advantage of solar is that when a solar system generates savings for a homeowner its yield is not taxable. Typically, a solar system will provide a ten to fifteen percent return per year. More specifically, a ten percent yield from solar equals on average generates at least a fifteen percent yield before taxes. It is almost impossible to find a ten percent annual after tax yield on an investment in today's economy that is as safe and secure as solar.

Solar Energy Basics

Using solar reduces your carbon footprint. It is equivalent to cars being taken off the road, new trees being planted, and less coal being burned. It also equals a decrease in smog, acid rain, and greenhouse gasses. Using solar to power homes is one of the most impactful things we can do to reduce our carbon footprint, increase our energy self-sufficiency, and help ourselves as we face the future

A pair of hands is shown from a top-down perspective, gently cupping a small, square, brown cardboard tag. The tag is centered in the palms and has the words "Thank you" written on it in a simple, black, hand-drawn font. The background is a light-colored, weathered wooden surface with visible grain and knots. The lighting is soft and even, highlighting the texture of the skin and the cardboard.
